Invest in ME Research is an independent UK charity facilitating and funding a strategy of biomedical research into Myalgic Encephalomyelitis (ME or ME/CFS) and promoting better education about ME. The charity is run by volunteers - patients or parents of children with ME. We do not receive and have never received funding from government or government organisations.

The charity decided early on that biomedical research into ME was crucial in order to make progress in treating this disease. We also decided that education of healthcare staff, the media, government departments, patient groups and patients was to be a priority.

Our conferences and our colloquiums are organised to provide a platform for research and a means of facilitating collaboration amongst international researchers and improve education about ME.

In order to bring the best education and research to London each year we welcome all support for these events as there are significant costs involved in achieving this.

We thank you for considering supporting us.

The IIMEC conferences this year includes some of the most renowned names currently involved in research into ME.

It also attracts delegates – researchers, clinicians, healthcare staff, media, patient group representatives, patients and carers – from nearly twenty countries.

This allows a great deal of interaction, networking and sharing of experiences, knowledge and ideas.

IIMEC14 provides the best place for networking on research, clinical care and advocacy relating to ME.

The venue for the conference is One Great George Street, London, England SW1P 3AA.

On the first floor is the most impressive and largest function space within the building. The Great Hall a conference room of over 370 square meters and over 13 meters in height is adorned with marbled columned walls, ornate gold leaf and embellished plaster. An oak floor complements a stunning painted ceiling and two large crystal chandeliers at either end of the event room.

There are seven floor-to-ceiling windows along the West wall letting in a lot of natural daylight.

The Great Hall will be where three refreshment breaks and the hot buffet lunch will be held – with lot of opportunity and space for networking. This is also where sponsors' exhibition tables are located.

Sponsors will be well placed to discuss their display with a range of delegates from different countries.
